Dedication

$\star$

N JUNE, 1891, the first class was graduated from Spokane's South Side high school.

In June, 1944, the hundredth class will be graduated from what is essentially the same school-Lewis and Clark.

An important milestone has been reached. Success lies behind, and hope for more success marks the future.

It is, therefore, appropriate that this Tiger be dedicated to the welfare of the next hundred classes to be graduated from Lewis and Clark. May this large group reach the attainments, and even exceed those, of their predecessors!

Salute

By Rosamond Crater

As you, the class of nineteen forty-four, Leave through these doors at last, across this lawn, The thousands pause to think of you once more, And thousands more will know that you have gone.

You are the hundredth class who entered here. You walked the same halls, worked by the same sun That those before you knew. And far and near, You too will do great things, as they have done.

The world you will inherit cries in grief.
The peace that once was known exists no more. There is no bit of grass, no sprouting leaf That is not scorched by hatred and by war;

And yet you do not need to be afraid.

The banner of your fathers still waves high, The guns lie ready where they last were laid, And strength to take them lives beneath the sky.

You can be proud of those who pioneered To clear the trails on which you now must goAnd proud of knowing that, unled, unsteered, You too can make new pathways through the snow.

The hour comes near. The others watch and wait; The doors are opened as with magic keys, Your flag dips farewell as you pass the gate And leave along the avenue of trees.

Good-bye for now, youth of the hundredth class.
You do not go alone as you march by.
The waiting world salutes you as you pass:
Good-bye, and keep our banners in the sky!

First Class io Have Commencement

Cnly seven persons made up the group at what was essentially Lewis and Clark's first commencement on June 26, 1891. Five were boys; two, girls.

Scene of First Commencement

Although the first class spent most of their school days in an old frame building called the Central school, they were graduated in the new South Central high school, completed in April, 1891. The picture above shows what was then the city's pride in high schools. It stood on exactly the same spot now occupied by Lewis and Clark.

Some of the details of the first commencement probably were planned in the office of the South Central high school. The picture above, however, was taken many years later-in 1907. The principal shown in his inner sanctum is D. E. Cloyd, head of the school from September, 1905, to June, 1907.

Library Work in First Commencement Times

High school students around the time o! the first commencement evidently did assiduous work in the library. Note, in the old South Central room: the girls in their shirtwaists and skirts; the boys in their suits; the crude library furniture; the imperfect lighting system. The book supply, on the other hand, did not seem short.

Library Work in One Hundredth Commencement Times

Students today possess a good library, and the demand for its use has to be regulated by a kind of rationing called library slips. The art work, the lighting system, the furniture, and the supply of books are all noticeably superior to those of the old days. Critics regret that the library room is too small for a normal student body of about 2000 and that the rooms are not located on the north side of the building.

Pre-Commencement Sewing Group Then

Yes, the girls in the days of the first commencement studied sewing. Here's a group in the old South Central high school working on a white undergarment with lace edges. Note the hair-do's, the puffed sleeves, the healthy-looking faces, etc. One sewing machine is in sight.

Pre-Commencement Sewing Group Now

Fire Affected Commencements, Too

The cause unknown, fire destroyed the South Central high school in 1910. It started in the auditorium section early on the morning of June 29 and burned rapidly through oil-soaked, dry wood structures. Principal H. M. Hart arrived on the scene in time to persuade the fire chief to allow several persons to enter the office and throw out the records. The next school year and a half found South side students using the North Central building in a double session with North siders.

The School of the Hundredth Class

This building, the home of the hundredth graduating class, was started in April, 1911, when President Theodore Roosevelt was present at the laying of the cornerstone. School began in the new structure on April 8, 1912. Henry M. Hart, principal, called the new school at the time "the toast of the Northwest among high schools."

PrincipalAbrahamLincolnParker

The One Hundredth Commencement of any school, needless to say, is an occasion for reflection and serious thought. For this school it means more than fifty years of continuous life in this community. Close to 14,000 students will have received diplomas by June, 1944. A debt of gratitude is due the citizens of Spokane for their support of this free American public high school, and a debt of gratitude is also due to each of the 14,000 who have carried the traditions of this school into all walks of life.

We owe much to the fighting men of today and to all civilians who are responsible for the preserving of all American free public institutions.

May this school and its alumni celebrate many more hundredth commencements in a Free America!

[^0]Men of the Faculty

Serving Lewis and Clark for the second year as vice principal, is William W. Taylor. He has distinguished himself for efficiency in preparing schedules and in fulfilling the many other duties of a vice principal. In personality he is noted for his quiet style.

Miss Rachel Davis, a former English instructor, was appointed girls' adviser last summer upon the resignation of Miss Frances Stubblefield. Her appointment found much faculty and student approval. A graduate of Washington State College, Miss Davis holds a B. A. degree. She came to Lewis and Clark in 1930.

Wills of the Classes of 1944, January and June

The classes of January and June, 1944, having been called away to service in other parts of the world, wish by means of this will to see preserved certain Lewis and Clark standards (or sub-standards) and institutions (or substitutions) by those who remain within its great portals. Through the years that these classes have been here, they have acquired certain traits (some good, some-), characteristics (crew cuts, etc.) and articles that may be of immeasurable use to those behind them in scholastic and social attainments. In this official statement constituents of the class hereby express their desires as to the distribution of that which is dearest to their hearts and hope they will be duly cherished . . . or at least dumped in a clean waste basket.

Prophecy

By Gay Bailey

May the great spirit of Prognostication descend from its omniscient sphere to endow my mind and eyes with the faculty of seeing into the mystical futures of the members of the classes of January and June, 1944.

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF JANUARY, 1944

As I look into my crystal, a scene begins to form. What is it? Ah! a courtroom with a round and sober judge. Who? His honor, Donald La Rose. A worthy profession indeed!

Now a broadcasting studio appears. 'The Major Bowes program with two lovely ladies about to sing-Suzie and Mary Jack. Good luck!

Trees make the new picture-blossoming trees with a lovely gardener who seems to be our Molly talking to Dr. Anderson, her tree doctor.

Into the azure skies I see a plane-it's over Tokyo. Bombs!-then the flight back home. Out steps Lorilla Johnson, World War II ace.

The smell of raw meat comes from my crystal the Black Market with its owner, Joe Black, behind the counter cutting up kidneys. A sad profession!

The University Club appears with a new and brawny bouncer who is (oh, my!) our own Ruthie Robinson.

I see a lecture hall. The subject is Relativity, but A. Einstein is in the audience. Who is this self-made genius on the platform? Professor Coffield.

To the office of the managing editor of the New York Times I am taken and there she is of Journal fame, Mayrelee.

A white-haired gentleman appears. Looking closer, I see he has attained the 33rd degree in the Masons. Robert Griffith.

The second Earl Carrol, they call himsurrounded by his one great weakness - beautiful women. No, it couldn't be-but it's Herbert Samuel Gilkey.

A scientific laboratory appears where an irate gentleman is taking the smell out of vinegar so he can dance with freshly shampooed females in peace. Kenneth Jernigen.

Now to an ornate office of a great psy-chiatrist-the one man capable of deciphering a woman's mind-William N. Preusse.

Another interesting scene is manifesting. A football game, wild cheering and there they are-Roland Moen salting the peanuts Donald Thompson sells.

A stage comes out of the mist - two dancers. One is the famed Zorina, but the other, ah! Jean Olsen has won the acclaim of the world.

My crystal shows a beautiful New York salon. Mrs. Astor comes in for a creation by La McGrew; Mrs. Vanderbilt leaves with shoes by Saad.

A huge desk looms into view with a diminutive figure working out a revision for the Dewey Decimal System used for the classification of books in libraries-the industrious Virgina Tuerke.

To the woods I am taken to a secluded spot with a small cabin - the home of a great philosopher and naturalist, the second Thoreau William Stark.

Now to the streets of a great metropolis where a crusading crowd marches onthe Women's Temperance Society headed by H. L. Kellinger.

An astounding accomplishment - a book in French entitled "Mayonnaise," written by a college freshman becomes a best-seller - none other than Harriet Johnston.

Prophecy of the Class of June, 1944

A dainty little apartment appears. On the davenport in the living room 1 see N. A. reading the newspaper. In the kitchen Babe is doing the dishes. Sweet domesticity.

Into the corridors of a metropolitan hospital I am taken where 1 hear the swish of crisp white skirts of Cadet Nurse Littlefield.

Again a stage looms into view. Sally Rand is performing but trips and falls. Her stand-in takes over and receives deafening applause Florelie H.

Now a little flower stand appears on a buzzing main street, where a gentle old lady sells the gardinias she often wore in youth-Elaine Prince.

A popular gentleman comes up to the microphone on the Hit Parade. Heart-rending squeals greet him. Bob Swoonatra Welch. One in every generation.

A minister stands in his pulpit with hands outstretched to his hypnotized audience as he pleads for the redemption of their fallen souls. The righteously Right Honorable Mark Sullivan.

A reporter shivers at the international ski meet as she endeavors to report on the sport of her long-forgotten "daze" at L. C.Bev Murphy.

A lonely figure stands on the Florida beach waiting for the "waves" to come in. Beachcomber Krehbiel.

The front page of Vogue appears with a dimpled model displaying the latest Lily Dache. Bernie Lou Kuehne.

Down the winding stairs of the White House flows the gown of First Lady Anne Chace. (New last names rarely predicted by your humble prognosticator!)

To the tents of the Big Top 1 am drawn. As I open the flap of the gypsy fortuneteller's abode I see she likes it so well she made it her profession. Mme. Gay Bailey.

The stage of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer appears where two feminine figures make with the song. The sweet-Proctor. The mellow-Yonkie.

The clearness of my crystal fades as I look at ice-glossy, cold. Then a figure in fur whirls past as she clinches her third world figure skating championship. Rozanne Bassett.

To the great Jantzen Woolen Mills I am taken. In the sweater-stretching room I find a nationally known expert, Stan Kaufman.

Loud bangings come from my crystal as I see eager females surging against a door behind which a great scientist completes his formula for the creation of beautiful women. Dr. W. H. Harris.

Down the street of a little village I am taken until, attracted by the clanging of an anvil, 1 look into a little shop and see another Harris, this time, Bob-blacksmith in a one-horse town. (Laugh!)

Into the luxurious fitting room of Sacques Fifth Avenue I am drawn to see a model with beauty as great as her heightFuthie Falls, showing to all the Astorbilts her own creations.

Next, my gaze is centered on a lovely blonde head, the hair of which is to be sheared for bombsights. It's a dreadful life, letting her hair grow just to be cut. Patriotic Pounder.

Out onto the misty moor I roam where perched on a crag I perceive the poetlaureate of the world composing one of her famous epics on the orange goblin called Mike. Rosamond (the only) Crater.

Now to the dusty desert of Saudi Arabia where the pipeline is being built. As so frequently in Spokane, there they are, drinking cokes at the "Oasis" - Magee Davis and Patee Dugger.

Hot music clangs from my crystal as I see the banquet room of the WaldorfAstoria. At the traps - a familiar fuzzy head, Johnny Powell. Trickling out with the toots-Bubbles the Burge.

Over the air, as Mrs. John Doe does her dishes, whimpers the voice of the great emotional actress Mona Montague, stage name of Miss Mary Jordan Bell, one-time starlet at L. C.

The seductive rhythms of the music of the Pago-Pago club floats from my crystal and I see the whirling, scantily clad figure of America's most famous native dancer, (Contunted on Page 131)

1943 FOOTBALL

The Tigers ended their varsity football season with a record of two wins and four losses in city league play. The team had keen established in pre-season as a strong contender, but an inexperienced line, frequent injuries, and a weak pass offense and defense, resulted in a third-place standing.

Lewis and Clark dropped both their games with Gonzaga, 26-7 and 13-6. The Bullpups took advantage of the Tigers' pass defense to score a majority of their touchdowns through the air. Bill Sleeth ran a kickoff back 70 yards for a touchdown in the first game.

The champion Rogers Pirates downed the Tigers, 28-12 and 12-6. In the first game the Pirates ran through gaping holes in the Tiger line to score their touchdowns. The second game was a different story as Lewis and Clark held the "state champs" to a one-touchdown victory. Harry Kellinger and Don Thompson sparked the Tigers in both games.

The Tigers downed North Central, 7-0 and 13-0. Lewis and Clark encountered a tough Indian line in both games but managed to push over scores in the second half of each game.

Vic Saad, tackle, and Harry Kellinger, halfback, were chosen on the all-city team.
The Tiger " B " squad walked off with the city title by defeating Rogers, 19-0, and beating North Central, 7-0. They dropped a game to Gonzaga, 12-0, but the game was forfeited because the Bullpups used varsity men. The team also registered a $6-0$ win over West Valley.

The frosh football team placed second in the league by beating Gonzaga, 6-0, and North Central, 26-0. The "greenies" dropped a $6-0$ decision to the champion Rogers team. The team also won a $25-0$ victory over Cheney. John Ford and Maynard Butterfield were the big guns in the backfield for the frosh, who also boasted a strong line.

1943 GIRLS' GOLF

The girls' golf team swept aside the North Central girls twice to win the title in both the spring and fall seasons of last year.

The squad last spring, though hampered by rain and cold, defeated North Central, $22 \frac{1}{2}$ to $13^{1 / 2}$, in the only match for both teams. Mary Jo Williams, Mary Fran McKevitt, BeCe Williams, Virginia Bryan, Babs Reinhardt, Patsy Merman, Jean Betts, Helen Berlin, Nancy Daniels, Joan Ruehl, Jean Groschupf, and Ann Davey comprised the team. Virginia Bryan and BeCe Williams won their letters.

The fall team, composed of BeCe Williams, Patsy Merman, Virginia Bryan, Dorothy Ruehl, Kay Knisely, Joan Ruehl, Jean Groschupf, Shirley Sweney, Nancy Daniels, and Barbara Hollister shellacked North Central, $24 \frac{1}{2}$ to $5 \frac{1}{2}$. Everyone except Jean Groschupf won her match. Oddly enough, Jean shot the best score on the Lewis and Clark team only to lose to her opponent, $2^{1 / 2}$ to $1 / 2$. Joan Ruehl scored a "birdie" in the match.

1943 GIRLS' TENNIS

The girls' tennis team, under the direction of Mrs. John Huneke, won three, lost two, and tied one in their 1943 spring and fall tennis matches.

In the spring, the team was defeated by Rogers, $10-6$. This was the first time in three years that the Pirates had beaten Lewis and Clark. The squad tied North Central, 8-8, and crushed West Valley, 7-1, in the season's finale.

In the fall, the Tigers were trounced by North Central, 10-5, but came back to shade West Valley, 4-2, and gained revenge on Rogers by defeating them, 8-6. The Tigers placed second in the fall semester.

1944 BASKETBALL

The Tiger basketball team, ably coached by "Squinty" Hunter, won their twelfth consecutive championship by winning eight games and losing one in city league play. The Orange and Black had a two-game lead over the second-place Rogers team, after beating the Pirates two out of three.

All games played with Rogers were nip and tuck affairs. The Pirates beat the Tigers, 39-38, after two overtimes in the first game, but Lewis and Clark salvaged the last two contests, $42-40$ and $40-32$. The Pirates maintained a healthy lead in the first game, but were tied at the end by a closing Tiger rally. However, after the first overtime, Rogers broke through with the winning tally. In the second game, the Bengals led throughout but were almost caught by a barage of Pirate baskets at the end. In the third game, the score was close throughout, but the Tigers rallied in the last quarter to win.

Lewis and Clark topped their ancient rival, North Central, in all three contests. The scores were 34-28, 37-32, and 32-30. The last two games were even all the way, but the Tigers had the good fortune to pull through.

1944 FROSH BASKETBALL

The freshman basketball team finished second in the city league by winning four games while losing two. Gonzaga won the crown by downing Lewis and Clark, 19-14, in the last game.

The Kittens won both games from Rogers by scores of $20-18$ and $27-15$. Lewis and Clark lost an 18-19 decision to North Central in the first game, but came back to rout the Indians, 37-9, on the Lewis and Clark floor. The frosh trounced Gonzaga, 27-13, in midseason but dropped the last game on the Boone Avenue court.

Those receiving numerals are: Rich LaDuc, Dick Hanks, Herman Muus, Elb Puckett, Ed Lapsley, Herb Cardle, Ernest Sly, and Tom Anderson. Tony Constanzo and Quenton White came in from Libby in midyear and might have won numerals had they played the whole season.

The coach of the freshman team was Philip Baird.

FROSH BASEBALL

The freshman baseball squad, coached by Varsity Manager Joe Heslin, lost three out of the four games played last season. The Kittens were on the short end of the score in the last three tilts, but won a decisive victory, in the first game, over the Gonzaga frosh by a score of 14 to 5

In the games with Rogers, the Kittens lost, 6-5 and 10-3, but both games were played by a small, inexperienced team, which couldn't seem to make the needed runs. Gonzaga defeated the Tiger frosh, 15-2, in the second game.

The Kitien squad had a considerable number of letter winners. Dick King was chosen the honorary captain, and Greg Miller the greatest inspiration. Others receiving their frosh numerals were: Loren Franke, Gene Carberry, Roger Stilson, Bill Mayberry, Gordon Manser, Ivan Shay, Dan Shadel, Earl Marsh, Lewis Magers, Teddy Yonago, Dan Rumpeltes, Dave Gelb, Jim Pence, and Clark Upton, manager.

FROSH BASEBALL

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

1943 BASEBALL

The Orange and Black nine of 1943 placed second in the city league by winning six games out of nine. The Tigers played excellent ball against the weaker teams, but "tightened up" against the champion Rogers team. Though there were eight returning lettermen, the Tigers couldn't make the hits that would bring in the necessary runs against a strong Rogers team.

The Pirates defeated Lewis and Clark in all three of the games, 9-1, 7-3, 3-0, with effective hitting and smoother fielding. In the first two games, Tiger errors were largely responsible for the Pirate victories. In the first contest, Tiger errors in the late innings enabled Rogers to turn a close game into a rout. The second game was decided in the first inning when Rogers tallied four runs on a hit, a walk, an error, and a fluke homerun.

North Central lost to the Tigers, 12-3, 5-1, and 12-5, to end in last place. Tom Burdine, who in previous seasons shut out North Central twice, was finally scored on in the fifth inning of the first game. Ray Miller narrowly missed a shutout in the second game and hurled shutout ball after relieving Don Chappell in the final contest. Nine seniors started this game. Strong hitting in the first and third games was predominant.

The Tigers also won all games with Gunzaga, $6-1,1-0$, and $4-3$. Tommy Burdine did a good job of pitching against the Bullpups as all four Gonzaga runs were unearned.

Though most of the returning lettermen did well, it was the newcomers who did a lot of hitting. Bob Goldstein, Ray Miller, and Kozo Furukawa were all well up in the bat ting lineup. Harry Kellinger led the hitters with . 346 .

Those receiving letters for one or more years were: Ed Muzatko, Lee Hubenthal, Tom Burdine, Lloyd Yonago, Baird Beil, Don Thompson, Chet Holman, Harry Kellinger, Bob Goldsein, Ray Miller, Kozo Furukawa, Wayne Hanks, and Dick Robb and Joe Heslin, managers. Hubenthal was named captain and Burdine the greatest inspiration.

"B" SQUAD BASEBALL

The 1943 track team had a rather poor season as far as dual meets in the city leaque were concerned. The Tigers lost all three. However, the team made a good showing in the all city meet by placing second. The squad was as follows: Front row (left to right): Bill Eng, Nathaniel Dillard, Tom Kauffman, Neil Powell, Frank Dellino, Chuck Grohs, Elmer Wagner, Dick Atwater, and Harold Purdy. Second row: Lewis Strong, Jim Brown, Bill Stark, Warren Smawley, Dave Skindlov, Bill Bell, Kenneth Foulkes, Dick Newport, Sam Gilky, and Dick Angvire. Third row: Art Frey, Stan Fallis, John Mitchell, John Matsumoto, Dick Bass, Stan Kauffman, Bill Sleeth, Bradley Young, Art Robinson, Stan Burke, and Clarence Wendlandt. Fourth row: Leroy Beeson, Bob Johnson, Don Ogsbury, and Bob Morphew.

1943 TRACK

Though the Tiger track team lost all three of their inter-school meets, the squad came back to finish second in the all-city meet.

In their meet with Gonzaga, the Tigers were overwhelmed by a score of 76 to 28 . The more experienced Bullpup tracksters won all but two events. Dick Newport and Don Ogsbury registered the only Tiger firsts.

A week later, the champion Rogers team downed Lewis and Clark $62^{2}{ }_{3}$ to $41 \frac{1}{3}$. Warren Smawley, Nick Massey, and Bob Johnson won their events.

In the meet with North Central, the Indians were on the long end of a 60-44 score. Sam Gilkey, Nick Massey, Bill Sleeth, Bob Johnson, Bill Bell, and Dick Newport all won firsts.

BOY GOLFERS, CHAMPIONS

The boys' golf team smashed their way to their third straight championship by winning three out of four matches last spring. The Tigers trounced Gonzaga, 13-3 and 10-7. They downed North Central, 12-4, in the first match but dropped the second, 6-11. Coach Phil Baird elected to use new men in the last matches with Gonzaga and North Central.

Mark Sullivan was probably the Tigers' outstanding player though Roger Walther, Jim Durkin, and Chuck Henton ranked close behind. Individual scoring was better than on the 1942 team, though because of stiffer competition the team did not do so well. The loss to North Central broke the Tigers' string of fifteen straight victories extending over a period of three years.

Roger Walther was the only three-year letterman on the squad. Jim Durkin and John Hanson were two-year award winners while Bob Bucklin, Chuck Henton, and Mark Sullivan were first year men.

GOLF SQUAD

RIFLE SQUAD

The Lewis and Clark rifle team was ranked forty-thard out of some 165 rifie team compettors by the Na tional Rifle Association. All of the team nembers were National Expert Ritlemen, and Jm Graybill won the Distinguished Rifleman's award. Team members ate as follows: Front row (Ceft to right): David Hess joe Shumate, James Reeder, David Moline Paul Holt, and Peier Jackson. Second row: Dan Schoedel Don Koster Keith Baker, Harold Olson, Lee Barton, and James Nooney. Third row: Jack Cocie, Bill Clark Roger Howard, J. C. MacMacken, Elmer Davis, and Keith Bergman.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Here is the successful girls badminton team, which participated in many matches in the spring and fall of last year. Several meets were held with the valley schools. The team includes: Front row: Margaret TripLett, Jean Groschupf, Jody Stone, Peggy Sue Theis, Jackie Roberts, and Elizabeth Palmer. Second row: Mrs. Griffith, Nancy Schulein, Kay Riley, Marcia Wolfe, Barbara Schauwecker, and Suzanne Smith.

MAJORETTE PICTURE

Ti.Girl Majorette Virginia Gunn is pictured as a member of an organization which has added much color and enthusiasm to football and basketball. Other Ti -Girl majorettes are: Betty Secrest, Jackie Taylor, Kathryn McLean, Mary Dunlop, Helen Johnson, and Mary Gundlack.

1944 BASKETBALL

The Bengals also downed Gonzaga, 52-21,37-29, and 35-27. Only in the second game did the Tigers have any difficulty in defeating the Bullpups.

Jack Mantor, diminutive Bengal forward, placed second in the league in scoring with 103 points in the nine games. Two other Tigers, Wayne Hanks and Bob Goldstein, wound up with 83 and 61 points respectively to rank with the leaders.

Beside the three mentioned, Mal Dix and Bill Roffler rounded out the starting lineup. Romain Bradbury and Ray Miller saw some action as substitutes.

The Tiger all-city would include Mantor and Earl Mortlock of Rogers as forwards, Hanks at center, and Dan Crandall of North Central and Jim Gruber of Gonzaga as guards.

STATE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FOR TIGERS

In addition to winning their twelfth consecutive city league championship, the Tigers also captured the state basketball title for the first time since 1926. Lewis and Clark wound up the season with 14 wins and two losses. The Bengals shaded a weak Winlock team, 41-35, in the first game, nosed out strong Centralia and the favorite Colfax, $35-34$ and $46-44$ respectively, and downed Lincoln of Tacoma, $41-38$, in the championship game in the last minute. The Tigers gained revenge on Colfax after being beaten by the Whitman county team early in the season. Colfax, Bellingham, Anacortes, Bremerton, Kirkland, and Ellensburg finished in that order after Lewis and Clark and Lincoln. Wayne Hanks and Bob Goldstein were placed on the all-state team picked by the sports writers at the tournament. The Tigers, averaging 41 points per game, led the tournament scoring.

REMINISCENCES

By LYMAN C. REEDMember of the First Graduating Class

The first high school class in Spokane started its four-year course in the fall of 1887, occupying a portion of the west upper room in the old South Central school. That school was a four-room frame building with a bell tower in front, which was located on the present site of the Lewis and Clark high school. It had two stories with two rooms below and two above, with coat rooms adjoining which had a hook for the use of each pupil. The rooms were heated by large iron box stoves with sheet iron drums on top. All of the rooms had double desks; therefore, at the beginning of each term the pupils would try to sell the teacher on the idea of allowing them to sit with their best friends. Of course, if they could secure one of the two seats located in the rear comer of the room back of the stove that was really something. School hours were from eight-thirty to four o'clock with one hour for lunch and two fifteen-minute recesses.

Neither the school grounds nor any of the surrounding streets were graded. However, the front of the school grounds and Fourth avenue were comparatively level, so pull-away and rugby football were played from Howard to Stevens streets. Each fall, the boys in the older grades and those in the high school department would chip in from 10 to 25 cents apiece which would purchase a leather-covered football. The outstanding feat for the older boys was to kick this old-fashioned ball over the bell tower which I suppose was about 60 feet high.

There were several large pine trees along Stevens street and also back of the building and a very large one near the edge of Howard street.

Principals Changed

About the time the high school department was started there was considerable dissension between the School Board and the parents of the pupils over the principal of the school, which resulted in a change of principals three times in about two years. Each principal had a different idea as to courses of study for high school students, so that first high school class had instruction in about every study for which text books were issued. However, for the last two years, the courses were stabilized and the class had the same instructors, Prof. J. B. Walker, the principal of the school, and Miss Kate B. Reed.

There were seven members of the first high school class, two girls and five boys. After much patient instruction outside of school hours, Miss Reed succeeded in welding the five boys into a passable vocal quintet and we sang at many school affairs and other entertainments.

New Schools Needed

The population of the town was increasing rapidly, so more school rooms were needed. An addition of two rooms was built at the back of the old school. In the spring of 1890 the School Board decided to erect a brick high school on the site of the old South Central school and four brick grade schools, two on the south side and two on the north side. Accordingly, that summer the old school building was moved one block east to the southeast corner of Fifth and Washington, where it was occupied until the new South Central high school building was completed in April, 1891.

In the new building the entire high school department, consisting then of about seventy pupils and two teachers, was housed in one large room at the rear of the second floor. Aside from one or two small recitation rooms, all other school rooms were used by grade pupils. On the third floor was the auditorium seating 650 people.

Speaking of the auditorium brings to mind an incident that made all members of that first graduating class boiling mad. The old Methodist college which was located on College avenue about a block west of Monroe street, was on its last legs. It had only a few pupils, but what did they do but ask the School Board to allow them to have their graduation exercises in the auditorium of our new high school building and a couple of weeks ahead of our graduation exercises.

Conflict Started

You can imagine how our class felt. Here we had been attending school in an old rattle-trap frame building for four years and we certainly wanted the honor of opening the new auditorium with our graduation exercises. The entire class attended a meeting of the School Board to protest against such an arrangement, but our impassioned oratory fell on deaf ears, for a Methodist member of the board moved that the matter be laid on the table and his motion prevailed. We thought somewhat of quitting school but our parents and the teachers talked us out of it, telling us how much better our graduating exercises would be.

That proved to be the case. There was only a small crowd in attendance at the Methodist college graduation exercises, while for ours the auditorium was packed full, including the stage, and people were standing in the halls and on the stairs. Each member of the class received many bouquets and baskets of flowers. Hence, on the evening of June 26, 1891, the career of the first Spokane high school graduating class wound up in a blaze of glory.

REMINISCENCES *

By VIVIAN AHLSTEDTMember of the Hundredth GraduatingClass

As Lewis and Clark prepares for its hundredth commencement, many of us who graduate this year cannot help looking back over the years and thinking how different this commencement will be from the first one. During the time that the hundredth class has attended Lewis and Clark there have happened many things worth recalling.

What would the class of 1891 have thought if they could have seen the morning and afternoon dancing sessions held up on the third floor by the chemistry room three years ago? And what would their comments be on the 'Tigers' Den, built where the swimming pool used to be? No doubt that the few pupils in the first class could have danced their smooth waltzes more conveniently than the many jumping couples that congest the floor each morning now.

Three Principals

Just as the first class saw many principals, so has the hundredth class a memory of more than one. Henry Hart and Truman G. Reed both held the position. And now that familiar spot in the office is occupied by A. L. Parker.

Lewis and Clark boys no longer kick the football over the tower as in the days of South Central high. They go 'way out of sight of the familiar red brick buildingto Hart field, named after the late principal. With recent years, high school football and basketball have grown to hold new popularity, and games are played under bright lights in the evenings, so more enthusiasts can attend. The basketball team is clinching their twelfth straight crown under the guidance of "Squinty" Hunter. One is tempted to believe that they will still be winning when the two hundredth class marches up to get its diplomas.

The dream of Lewis and Clarkers now is a new high school building to be built at Hart field. The project would enable students to remedy their desire to get out and roam around the grounds at noon instead of being confined to the west sidewalk. It would mean the end of three crowded lunch hours.

Fox Theater Used

Commencements have been held at the Fox theater, due to the tremendous size of the classes, and one recent June commencement was held outdoors.

The school convocations are held in the large auditorium on the first floor, instead of one mentioned by Mr. Reedwhich was on the third floor. Imagine running up to third and pushing one's way into a Con! What the first graduating class would have thought of our cons is also a subject for thought. Not mentioning any of them in particular-but they are different.

Every morning the school is filled with the hum of conversation-especially down on the southwest corner. Early morning hours seem to appeal to students as the time for chattering about all the latest gossip.

Of course the faculty has changed, and is much larger than it was when the first class graduated. There are different courses and new teachers to teach them. With the declaration of war came many pre-induction courses.

Lewis and Clark has also grown warminded. The Associated Student Body has undertaken to help in many war drives. Incidentally the A. S. B., itself, is something that is rather new to the school. It was introduced by Principal Reed, and has had two advisers to date-Dan Whitman and E. W. Toevs. This form of student government seeks to meet the students' wishes in its legislation.

May Day Events

For a number of years there were May Day celebrations, and nearly the whole student body turned out to see the festivities at Hart field, including the crowning of a queen and her princesses. The honored girls were chosen by student body votes.

Something nearly as new to the school were the Ti-Girls, a marching unit. These girls were organized to help carry school spirit to athletic events, and costumed in bright orange outfits possibly shocking to nineteenth century students.

The Lewis and Clark Journal and the Tiger have become established publications, and the Tiger was issued bi-annually before a School Board regulation forbade it.

The Dads of Lewis and Clarkers got together and put on an annual minstrel show to raise the funds needed to make improvements in the building.

The senior sneak is now a thing of the past due to a rather tragic drowning at a Liberty lake outing.

The date of this much celebrated com-mencement-to-be is not definitely set, neither is the place. But, whenever the time, wherever the place, the hundredth graduating class will share that same glorious feeling experienced by those who were the first to complete their four-year course at South Central high school. Though fiftythree years separate these featured classes, four years spent at essentially the same school and a graduation in the month of June unite them in similar recollections of life at Lewis and Clark.

THE SHEPHERD OF GRADUATING CLASSES

A Character Sketch of Thomas Teakle

By LEROY BEESON

Throughout a person's lifetime he has opportunity to and reason for meeting a great number of people. Some are forgotten almost as soon as they are out of sight while others possess a personality so strong and impressive that the memory of that individual lingers long after he has passed from your sight.

Such a man is Thomas Teakle, class adviser for graduating classes since 1928. Upon meeting him one would assume he was speaking to a well-educated man and he would be. However, Mr. Teakle frequently hides behind the guise that he is a character of fire. During the course of a conversation he will voice his views in such a manner that those listening are fired to the flaming point with eagerness to tell everyone of "their" views. 1t is easily seen how he accomplishes this. Squinting from behind a small round pair of glasses, he talks so fast and sincerely in his bass voice that a person's attention is held to the extent that he could be told black was white and would leave to tell the world of it.

Smile, Scowl Powerful

Observing the uppermost regions of this energetic man, one is reminded of the saying, "grass doesn't grow on a busy street." He possesses a smile so pleasing that all in light of it smile in unison. Contrastingly, he possesses a scowl so piercing, all-knowing, and terrible, that I imagine he could have made George Washington confess to twenty "crimes" other than the cherry tree incident.

One of Thomas Teakle's greatest claims to fame arises from the fact that he is "all legs." His great outdoor sport is hiking, and he is very proficient at it. Every fall and every spring he hurls challenges at his classes in the wording that there isn't a "man" amongst them. Those that accept his challenge to hike leave with the determination to outhike him so they will have something to tell their grandchildren, and don't believe any of them wouldn't. Unfortunately, most of these aspiring young hikers and Alpinists are lucky indeed if they finish up with him. It is always enjoyable to hear his vituperation of some person's hiking technique, that is, so long as it isn't yours personally.

Systems of governments and world problems hold no terror for this modern Socrates. He knows the cause of most happenings and has a sound solution for all. He can tell his knowledge so convincingly that there is no doubt left in listeners' minds as to the facts. Mr. Teakle is a walking encyclopedia of historical data. He can also talk for hours on end about domestic problems. One would believe him to be an authority on governmental subjects and that is just what he is. He has often explained various phases to his students.

Full of Facts

Mr. Teakle is always full of interesting facts. He likes to tell his classes of the old Texas woman who walked five miles along a barbed-wire fence with a wildcat under each arm. This disbelief registered on each student's face is only reflected by a grin on the story teller's.

Mr. Teakle is, however, not the sort of person to speak about himself. When asked of several characteristics of himself he evaded the questions and talked of other things. Possibly this is the modesty in him.

He is a person that has been well liked by all classes he has ever taught. He has been the senior A home rcom teacher for many years and has always managed it successfully. Many of his students return to talk with him, and the fact reflects his popularity. His Christmas card mail from students and graduates is bulky. The sign of a successful person is shown if he can get along with the younger generation. By this sign it is easily noted that Mr. Teakle is successful

Next the scaffolding of a new Lewis and Clark appears as two architects shout directions to their willing carpenters. Helene and Mercedes to Daiger, Mantor and Barringer.

Following in the footsteps of his famous mama, standing on a platform before the W. C. T. U., I see a bespectacled, baldheaded little man reviewing "The Good Life," by Professor B. Young. None other than A-Book-a-Week Puckett.

Now my crystal fades into a whirling pool and no more familiar faces and figures appear. So closes the one glance we have had toward the futures of outstanding L. C. students. may your Lewis and Clark days be among your most cherished memories;

Man is like unto a kerosene lamp,
He isn't especially bright;
He's often turned down, usually smokes, And frequently goes out at night.

Dennis: The great astronomers have seen a new asteroid.

Mike: They kan kape the beast. Oi'm satisfied with a common horse to ride.

Teacher: Now, Tommy, give me a declarative sentence, and then we'll change it to imperative form.

Tommy: The horse draws the wagon. Teacher: Now make it imperative. Tommy: Get up!

All the girls of the junior A class seem to have been seized with a sudden desire to do up their hair. Hardly a pig tail lett.

There was a young lady named Kate,
Who to school every morning came late;
When she ne'er brought excuses
She was heaped with abuses,
And a little green grave
was her fate.

The dairy maid pensively milked the goat,
And, pouting she paused to mutter:
'I wish, you brute, you would turn to milk,'
And the animal turned to butt-her.
